About Our Sponsors:

USPS: Leading with a commitment to community and engagement.

ALDI: Bringing affordability and quality to the forefront of our event.

Publix: Known for exceptional service and community involvement.

Shipwreck Bar and Grill: Offering a taste of local cuisine as our proud supplier.

Advertising Plan:

Social Media: Our digital campaign will kick off two months before the tournament, targeting our young, active audience. Weekly updates on platforms like Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter will include team introductions, behind-the-scenes looks at event preparations, and sponsor spotlights. The frequency of posts will increase as the event approaches, with daily updates during the final week featuring live interviews and contests.

Local Radio: Starting six weeks before the event, we will air engaging 30-second ads during peak commute times to reach a broad audience. Weekend radio segments will offer in-depth interviews with organizers and participants, sharing the story behind "Spike It Up" and its impact on the community.

Television: Four weeks out, prime-time TV ads on local sports channels will capture the essence of "Spike It Up" with action-packed footage and interviews. These ads are designed to build excitement and anticipation, ensuring "Spike It Up" becomes the summer's must-attend event.

Through a combination of strategic planning, community engagement, and targeted advertising, "Spike It Up" is set to be more than just a beach volleyball tournament—it's a celebration of sport, community, and summer fun. Join us at Due West College for a day you won't want to miss!
